Design leader with 14 years across brand, editorial, and product. I lead engagements from client conversations through discovery, design systems, and developer handoff. I led six designers through the rebuild of Amica.com, which relaunched in October 2026. I started in editorial and brand at Mashable and NowThis, and I still work hands-on in Figma and code. I manage designers and founded Razorfish's Designers & AI Craft Group.
